Helium Tank Rental Terms & Safety

Safety warning

- All helium tank cylinders need to be secured; this is the renter's responsibility.
- Helium is a non-toxic, non-flammable gas however it is dangerous to breathe in the gas from the cylinder, or even from an inflated balloon. DO NOT INHALE HELIUM GAS!! Inhaling helium gas directly from a high pressure tank can cause loss of consciousness, permanent brain damage, or even death. Close helium tank valve tightly after each use.
- We recommend that you transport the helium tank cylinder securely in the trunk of your car (tie down). If you must transport it in the passenger compartment, make sure it is secured.
- Do not store tanks filled with helium near an open flame or in direct sunlight.
- Do not store it in an area where the temperature may exceed 120 degrees.

Loss or Damage

-Responsibility for equipment remains with the renter from the time of receipt to time of return. Please be sure equipment is secured when not in use and protected from the weather. We do charge for missing, broken, or damaged parts. Check with the management of halls, convention centers, restaurants and parks to make sure it is allowed. Once helium has been reserved/picked up or delivered NO REFUNDS WILL BE GIVEN.

(Hereinafter called the renter or lessee) It is agreed as follows:

The owner will let and the lessee will take possession of item(s) described above.

The duration of this lease (rental) shall be as described above.

The lessee shall not arrange or undertake any repairs or refilling in any form; helium gas, balloon gas or any other pressurized product.

The lessee shall not lend, sublet, rent or allow others to use the equipment.

--Prices are subject to change.

Liability

The lessee acknowledges by signing this form that he/she shall be liable for the rental equipment, and is responsible for any damage or loss of this equipment whether or not it be due to fire, theft, abuse or by accident. It is further understood that the lessee has been shown the proper procedure and use of said equipment and fully understands how to attach the balloon valve to the cylinder and the proper use thereof.
